Death

to purchase heroin, fentanyl, and acetyl fentanyl from Williams. The evidence further showed that officers and detectives with the Sevier County Sheriff's Office responded to the overdose death of a Kodak, Tennessee resident on Thanksgiving morning, November 22, 2018. Through the overdose investigation, it was determined that Williams distributed the drugs that resulted in that death. Finally, the prosecution also presented evidence that on March 27, 2019, agents seized quantities of heroin, fentanyl, and acetyl fentanyl, a firearm and ammunition, and over $10,000 in cash from Williams.

Acting United States Attorney Francis M. Hamilton III and Homeland Security Investigations ("HSI") Special Agent in Charge Jerry C. Templet Jr. made the announcement.

This case was prosecuted as part of Operation Synthetic Opioid Surge (SOS), a Department of Justice program that seeks to reduce the supply of deadly synthetic opioids in high impact areas and to identify wholesale distribution networks and international and domestic suppliers.

Law enforcement agencies participating in the joint investigation which led to the indictment and subsequent conviction of Williams include the Sevier County Sheriff's Office ("SCSO") and HSI with the participation and assistance of the Sevier County Street Crimes Unit, the Tennessee Bureau of Investigation, and the U.S. Marshal's Service.

Assistant United States Attorneys Brent N. Jones and Anne-Marie Svolto represented the United States at trial. Maryville Man Sentenced To 45 Years In Federal Prison For Child Exploitation Crimes of Tennessee, sentenced Tywan Montrease Sykes, 46, of Louisville, Tennessee, a previously registered sex offender, to serve 45 years in federal prison on child exploitation charges. A federal jury convicted Sykes's in March 2021 of charges of production of child pornography, enticement of a minor for illegal sex, committing those offenses while being required to register as a sex offender, and possession of child pornography. Sykes had been previously convicted of statutory rape in 1998 and aggravated statutory rape in 2012.

The Honorable Thomas A. Varlan, United States District Judge for the Eastern District

Following his release from prison, the United States Probation Office will supervise the defendant for 30 years and he will be required to register as a sex offender in any state in which he resides, works, or attends school.

"This case demonstrates our commitment to protecting our children through the prosecution of recidivist child predators to the fullest extent of the law," said Acting United States Attorney Francis M. Hamilton, III.

"The lengthy sentence in this case shows the significant punishment child predators face for their incomprehensible actions," said Homeland Security Investigations (HSI) Nashville Special Agent in Charge Jerry C. Templet, Jr. "HSI will continue to work with our law enforcement partners to remove these offenders from our communities and protect their vulnerable young victims."

According to the evidence presented at trial, the investigation began after Facebook notified the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children (NCMEC) that Sykes was soliciting a 15-year-old girl for sex and child pornography with messages he sent to the girl through Facebook. NCMEC notified the Knoxville Police Department's Internet Crimes Against Children unit (KPD-ICAC), which immediately contacted the local Department of Children's Services office to help identify the girl and ensure her safety. KPD-ICAC arrested the defendant within 48 hours after the minor was interviewed. Federal search warrants were used to obtain the defendant's and the victim's Facebook communications and to search the defendant's phone, which revealed substantial evidence that was used at trial to convict Sykes.

Williams stated it was not his at which point Deputy had him exit the vehicle. Deputy asked Williams for consent to search the vehicle, to which he consented, and while doing so Deputy located X3 1mg Alprazolam, 0.5g of a heroin fentanyl compound, and 0.6g of heroin in a cigarette pack in the driver side door pocket. Deputy also located a baggie with residue and another syringe inside the offenders backpack. Horoscopes in your head may send your heart crashing when they end unfulfilled or crushed. There's a realistic tone to the day asking you to be serious and practical, especially when it comes to your feelings.

Sagittarius 11/22-12/21

Your heart's in the right place today, but somehow you find it hard to execute the things you want to do. Art and music projects are especially difficult for you now. They require a more cerebral approach than you'd like to admit. Perhaps you're drawn to the spiritual nature of things more than you're opposed to the rational nature of things.

Capricorn 12/22-01/19

If you experience resistance or frustration in a certain area, you should take this as a sign that you should follow a new route. Things should flow smoothly and easily. This is one of those days in which reality is going to conflict harshly with fantasy, especially if you don't have them well separated in your mind. Enjoy your imaginary world, but deal with the practical world, too.

Aquarius 1/20-2/18

Indulge your sensual nature today. This part of your being doesn't get expressed regularly. Go for a long walk with someone you love. Light some candles in your bedroom or take a leisurely hot bath. Tastes and smells are extra potent for you now. Enjoy a romantic dinner for two. Don't get so caught up in the intellectual aspect of things that you forget about the sensuous side of life.

Pisces 2/19-3/20

You may experience some push and pull today. One minute you feel like you should sit back and wait for things to go your way, and the next you feel a stick poking you to get moving. Life is a delicate balance of incorporating these two modes of operation. Neither way is more correct, so recognize and honor both.

Aries 3/21-4/19

You may experience some raw emotions today, which you should use as your ally instead of your enemy. Your heart may feel rather abused, so do what you can to gently care for it. Be careful of letting others get too close if they simply don't know how to act around something so fragile and pure. Protect yourself.

Taurus 4/20-5/20

The annoying restlessness that you experience today is simply a reminder that it's important to start engaging in art projects or musical endeavors that make you happy. Learn from people who aren't afraid to follow their dreams. Don't be so concerned with what other people think of your work. Now it's important to do these things for yourself.

Gemini 5/21-6/20

People may be relying on you in many ways today, so be careful that you don't let anyone down. You may feel like judges are evaluating your performance. Try not to get too carried away with this concept. What's most important is that you do your best, not necessarily that you achieve perfection.

Cancer 6/21-7/22

Try not to get caught in the crossfire of a heated emotional battle today. Your happy, freedom-loving nature is too precious to be tainted by abrasive words and emotions. If things begin to flare up, erect a mental protective wall. These people may be too caught up in their own drama to see how their actions affect the people around them.

Leo 7/23-8/22

You should feel emotionally stable today, but you may feel a bit unsure of yourself when it comes to data. Someone is challenging your way of thinking and demanding that you take a step farther out on the fragile limb. You're happy on the part of the branch that's much thicker and more stable. Feel free to stay there if you don't feel comfortable taking a chance now.

Virgo 8/23-9/22

Go out and see a movie that you've wanted to see for weeks. You'll be happiest in a reality that isn't necessarily yours. Fantasy and imaginative scenarios are what tickle your fancy now. Be careful of being weighed down by heavy emotional issues that don't have anything to do with you.

Libra 9/23-10/22

You may be faced with a choice between two different realities. Friends and family are choosing sides while you remain on the fence. You're able to understand both sides of the issue, making it difficult to put your energy in only one camp. Perhaps you wish to serve as a bridge between the two camps. Things don't have to be as black and white as others see them.
